Final Office Action

Specification

1. The amendment filed March 28, 2007 is objected to under 35 U.S.C. 132(a) because it introduces new matter into the disclosure. 35 U.S.C. 132(a) states that no amendment shall introduce new matter into the disclosure of the invention. The added material, which is not supported by the original disclosure, is as follows: *Then, the rebuild block overwriter 75 overwrites the rebuilt object block on one of the copied object block and the original object block (step S550). The original object block may be an original of the copied object block. There is no support for overwriting the rebuilt object block on both the copied object block and the original object block. This includes the original claim set.

Applicant is required to cancel the new matter in the reply to this Office Action.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

2. The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

3. Claims 1-4, 6-9, 11, 13, 15, 16, and 18 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as failing to comply with the enablement requirement. The claim(s) contains subject matter, which was not described in the specification in such a way as to enable one skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and/or use the invention.

In claim 1, lines 14-15, a rebuild block overwriter that overwrites a rebuilt object block on one of the copied object block and an original object block that is an original of the copied object block is not supported in the Applicant's disclosure, for example paragraph 0051.

In claim 2, lines 10-11, said rebuild block overwriter overwrites said rebuilt object block on the one of said copied object block and said original block is not supported in the Applicant's disclosure, for example paragraph 0051.

In claim 9, lines 15-17, a rebuild block overwriter that overwrites a rebuilt object block on one of the copied object block and an original object block that is an original of the copied object block is not supported in the Applicant's disclosure, for example paragraph 0051.

In claim 11, lines 9-10, overwriting the rebuilt object block on the one of the copied block and the original object block is not supported in the Applicant's disclosure, for example paragraph 0051.

Response to Arguments

With respect to Applicant's arguments that paragraph 0051 supports the claim limitations rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, the Examiner disagrees. Paragraph 0051 specifically states The rebuild block overwriter 75 overwrites the rebuilt data block DB1b on the original block PB1 in the storage device 30e or the copied block PB1' in the storage device 30f. This is clearly in the alternative and does not support overwriting both the original block and the copied block. The terms "or" and "and" cannot be used interchangeably. The Applicant is requested to amend the claims accordingly.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 101

4. In view of the recent amendments the rejection of claims 9 and 11-15, under 35 U.S.C. 101 because the claimed invention is directed to non-statutory subject matter, has been withdrawn.

Allowable Subject Matter

5. Claims 1-4, 6-9, 11, 13, 15, 16, and 18 would be allowable if rewritten or amended to overcome the rejection(s) under 35 U.S.C. 112, 1st paragraph, set forth in this Office action.

6. Claims 19-30 are allowed.

Conclusion

6. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
